VISTA System Server

Operations and Security Solutions

The VISTA Operations Management System can monitor what goes on in and around your business, captures and stores digital images of your visitors and employees and detects attempted break-ins.

Fire and Life Safety Solutions

The VISTA Operations Management System can help safeguard the people and properties of your business from the devastating destruction of fire and deadly hazards of chemical leaks such as carbon monoxide and natural gas.

Environmental Notification Solutions

The VISTA Operations Management System frees you from the worries of spoilage, water leaks, flood damages and helps maintain the safest and most comfortable environment for employees and customers.

I. VISTA System Server

Increase Overall Business Productivity and Expand the Scope of Security Management

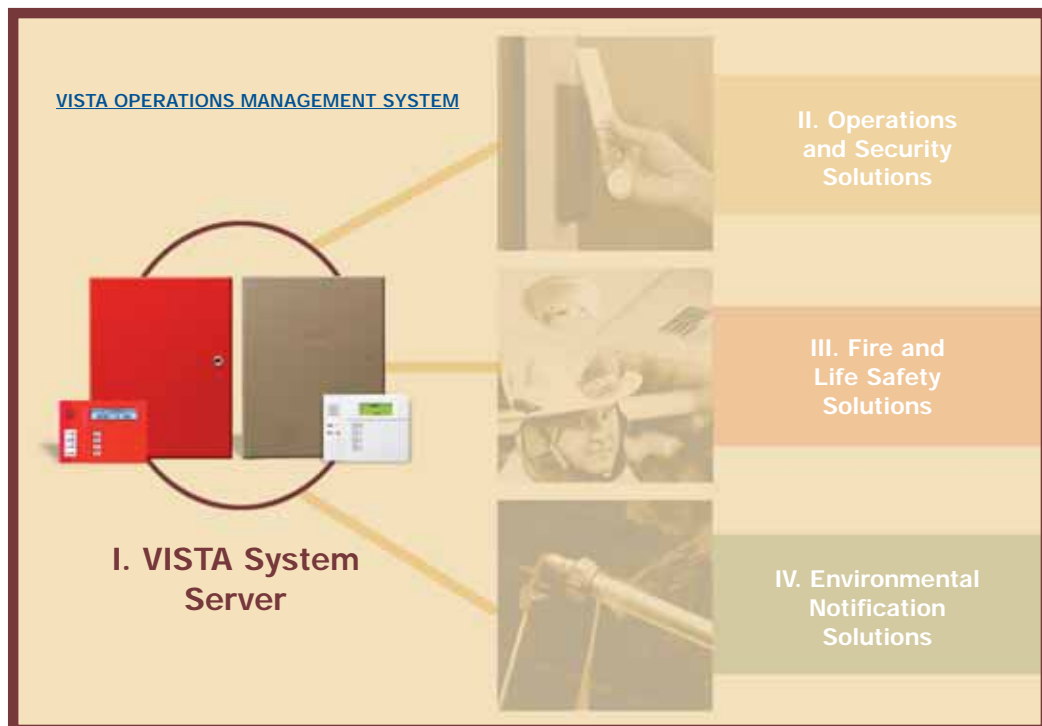

Enhanced Integrated Protection

The VISTA System Server is the heart of any Honeywell VISTA Operations Management System. Whatever system your business requires, the right control equipment is crucial for bringing the most effective solutions together into one integrated system.

When combined with Honeywell's user-friendly keypads, the server can be used to create a unique, customized solution that seamlessly integrates security, video, access and sensor capabilities for any business size and budget.

Dynamic and Effective Operations Management

Each VISTA server contains advanced communications features that allow you to monitor your facility at all times both locally and remotely. All VISTA servers are agency tested, certified and monitored by central stations round-the-clock to safeguard against burglary, vandalism, flooding and other emergencies. We focus on the security so you're free to focus on building your business.

II. Operations and Security Solutions

Help Manage Your Business Effectively

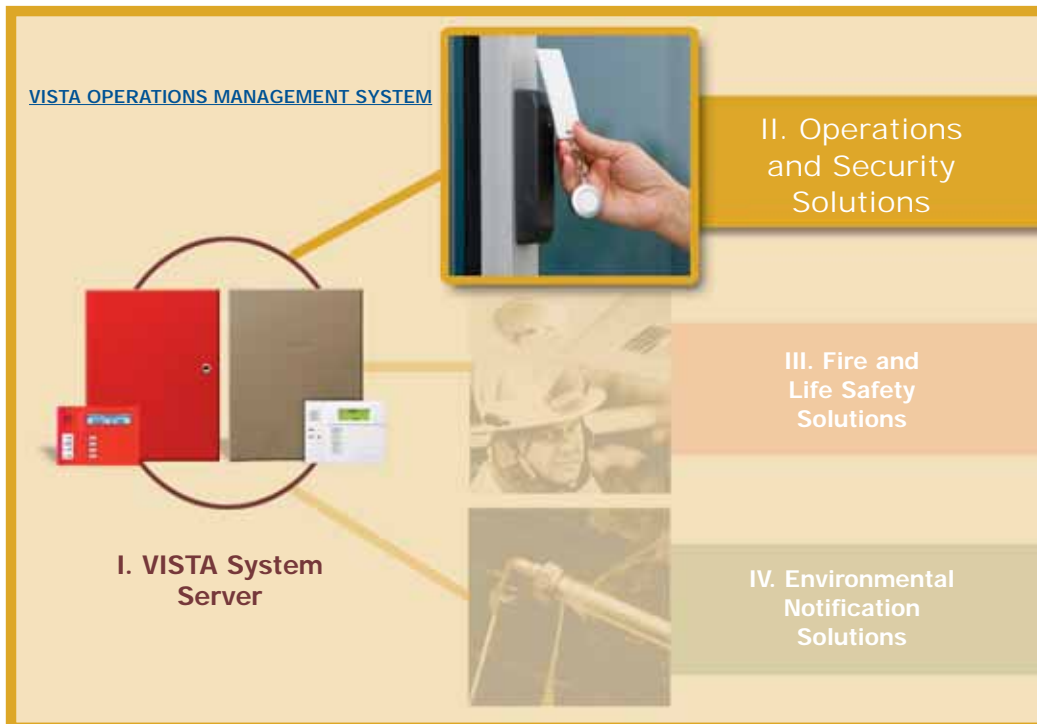

Honeywell's Operations Management Systems can help you manage your resources, prevent theft and break-ins and safeguard your property, employees and customers from crime, fire and other hazards. Our powerful and easy-to-use digital surveillance, access control and intrusion solutions are designed to help increase your overall business profit by turning everyday challenges into advantages.

The chamber of commerce reports that $50 billion are lost annually due to shrinkage—a combination of employee theft, shoplifting, vendor fraud and administrative error. The Wall Street Journal reported that up to 75% of all employees steal at least once—half of these, at least twice.

With VISTA Operations Management Systems, you benefit from:

- Advanced Remote Operations Management
- Seamless Theft & Vandalism Prevention
- Reliable Access Authorization Control
- Effective Employee Safety Management

III. Fire and Life Safety Solutions

Safeguard Your Business from Catastrophes

The NFPA states that an estimated $3.8 billion in property damage occurred as a result of commercial fire in 2005, and 17,925 injuries and 3,675 deaths occurred in both residential and non-residential fires.

With VISTA Operations Management Systems, you benefit from:

- Advanced accuracy and reliability of early fire and chemical leakage detections
- Instant system notification
- Rapid and multi-response support

When dealing with the unpredictable and devastating threat of fire and other life safety emergencies, the best defense is early detection. Honeywell's VISTA Operations Management Systems offer an extensive line of accurate and reliable fire alarm and life safety detection devices that are necessary tools for safeguarding people and property.

Our fire and life safety products can help create a custom designed system for your application type, building size, code requirements and budget.

Along with the confidence that comes from building the world's most reliable conventional hardwired products, you also have a variety of the industry's most advanced wireless products to choose from. Our advanced wireless technology lets you preserve the aesthetics of your business and add extended protection where hard-to-wire situations (such as the presence of asbestos) prohibit wire routing.

IV. Environmental Notification Solutions

Protect Your Assets and Inventory

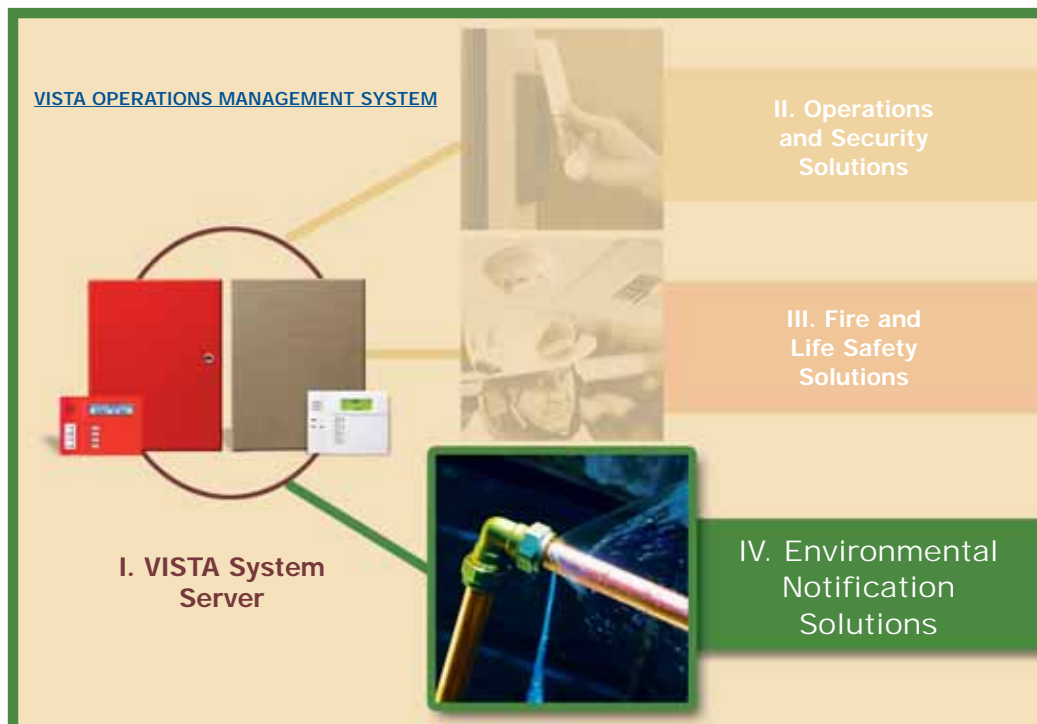

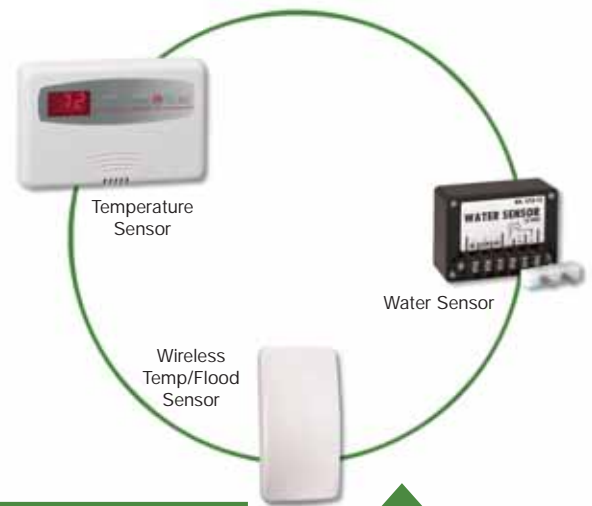

Honeywell's VISTA Operations Management Systems provide an advanced line of environmental notification products that help protect your business assets and inventory while maintaining the safest possible environment for customers and employees.

Our environmental detection products offer the latest technologies to protect your business against spoilage, flood, property loss and liability claims.

Environmental control concerns have never been more prevalent for retailers. An employee leaving a freezer door ajar or a leaking pipe can cost thousands of dollars in inventory. A leaky faucet in a rest room can cost millions in "slip and fall" liability. Protection against spoilage, flood, property loss and liability claims are an absolute necessity.

With VISTA Operations Management Systems, you benefit from:

- The ability to choose sophisticated and dependable temperature and water sensors that can be adapted to your specific business requirements
- An "industry's first" combined temperature and flood detector to spot dangers quickly
- Rapid and seamless warning capabilities via remote and local communication paths
